

Melco announces City Dreams Mediterranean is to open in Limassol, Cyprus on July 10, 2023
May 12, 2023

Melco's largest integrated resort is set to redefine the island's tourism and hospitality sectors.

Melco's largest integrated resort is set to redefine the island's tourism and hospitality sectors.

Design concept rendering of the hotel tower
The hotel tower and lobby interiors

UNIVERSITY, Capital, May 15, 2023 (CNBC NEWSROOM) — Metro Real Estate & Development is pleased to announce the opening of its new hotel tower in Costa Rica, a first-of-its-kind development in the country, marking an important milestone in the company's expansion into Latin America. The hotel tower, located in the heart of Costa Rica's capital, San José, is a 15-story, 150-room hotel that is currently under construction. The hotel tower is expected to open in late 2024. The hotel tower is a first-of-its-kind development in Costa Rica, marking an important milestone in the company's expansion into Latin America. The hotel tower is currently under construction and is expected to open in late 2024.

The hotel tower is a first-of-its-kind development in Costa Rica, marking an important milestone in the company's expansion into Latin America. The hotel tower is currently under construction and is expected to open in late 2024. The hotel tower is a first-of-its-kind development in Costa Rica, marking an important milestone in the company's expansion into Latin America. The hotel tower is currently under construction and is expected to open in late 2024. The hotel tower is a first-of-its-kind development in Costa Rica, marking an important milestone in the company's expansion into Latin America. The hotel tower is currently under construction and is expected to open in late 2024. The hotel tower is a first-of-its-kind development in Costa Rica, marking an important milestone in the company's expansion into Latin America. The hotel tower is currently under construction and is expected to open in late 2024. The hotel tower is a first-of-its-kind development in Costa Rica, marking an important milestone in the company's expansion into Latin America. The hotel tower is currently under construction and is expected to open in late 2024.

See the new statements
The information contained in this document represents the current financial position of Metro Real Estate & Development Limited ("Metro") as of the date of the financial statements. The information contained in this document is not intended to be a complete and exclusive summary of the operations and financial performance of Metro. The information contained in this document is not intended to be a complete and exclusive summary of the operations and financial performance of Metro. The information contained in this document is not intended to be a complete and exclusive summary of the operations and financial performance of Metro. The information contained in this document is not intended to be a complete and exclusive summary of the operations and financial performance of Metro.

For more information, please contact:
David M. ...
Phone: ...
Email: ...

Important information:
The information contained in this document is not intended to be a complete and exclusive summary of the operations and financial performance of Metro. The information contained in this document is not intended to be a complete and exclusive summary of the operations and financial performance of Metro. The information contained in this document is not intended to be a complete and exclusive summary of the operations and financial performance of Metro. The information contained in this document is not intended to be a complete and exclusive summary of the operations and financial performance of Metro.